Preface

When Benjamin Franklin discovered electricity, the whole world benefited. Immediately, people began to cash in on it and switched onto its power with new electrical inventions. Today, when electrical power fails, almost everything comes to a standstill.

This is only the power of electricity. What about the power of God?

A Christian life without the power of God is like an appliance without electricity. Without electricity, we can still live, just as in the days of our forefathers. But without the power of God, we cannot live the Christian life.

The power of God is the essence of the Christian life. It has come in the Person of the Holy Spirit. It is the power of the Holy Spirit working in and through us. All God wants is us. We are to empty ourselves to receive His power.

The world understood the potential of the power of electricity. But Christians do not seem to know what can be achieved by the power of God. Most of us would want to receive the power of God but are not willing to pay the price.

Yet all we need to do is wait.

The power of God does much more than electricity. It gives life (John 10:10). Do not take it for granted but make sure you have the power of God in your life. Do everything you can to pursue and receive it. You will then live a transformed, victorious Christian life.
